

The Association of Taxation Technicians
Annual Report & Accounts 2007

REVIEW

The Arms granted to the Association in 1990 with Supporters granted in 1997. The shield shows a gold cross, the Roman X, indicating the tithe or tenth paid in former times. The wheatsheaves represent produce or income and the sword of the Crown's officer is matched by the sword of the taxpayer's adviser. The chequered surround signifies the Court of the Exchequer which used counters on a chequered table-cloth to check calculations. Above the helm is a closed book representing abstruse written law, surmounted by an owl of wisdom. The Arms are supported by a pair of Mute Swans, representing constancy, while the plant thrift grows from the banks on which they stand.

The Association of Taxation Technicians

The vision of the Association of Taxation Technicians is to be the leading educational body in the field of compliance tax law and practice.

The Association's mission is to advance public education in and promote the study of the administration and practice of taxation.

To do this it:

- provides through examination a qualification "Taxation Technician" for persons engaged in tax compliance work;
- runs residential courses and one-day conferences;
- publishes (jointly with the Chartered Institute of Taxation) the monthly journal Tax Adviser;
- issues annotated copies of Finance Acts and other technical material;
- liaises with and makes submissions to the Revenue authorities and government on the improvement and simplification of taxation compliance issues and relevant tax legislation;
- maintains standards of professional conduct for members;
- provides eligibility to take the examination of the Chartered Institute of Taxation.

President's statement

The Association has gone from strength to strength during 2007, with the highlights being the successful first sitting of our new examination structure in May and the introduction of our Money Laundering regulatory scheme in December.

New examination structure

Our main objective for the year was the successful introduction of our new examination structure. We had spent many months planning the new structure and putting all the procedures in place, including recruiting twenty-one examiners. However, the real test came when the first candidates sat the new papers in May. I am very pleased to say that we had a high entry for the papers and encountered no significant problems in the administration of the examinations. The pass rate for all papers was very high. The trend continued in November with another high entry and many candidates being successful.

The increased flexibility is having an impact on how candidates approach the examinations. We still have a large number who sit four papers at one time, but there are some who decide to spread the workload over two sittings. In addition there is an increasing number who are sitting one paper. It is likely that many of these are not aiming to pass four papers and become members, but are instead setting their sights on obtaining a certificate of competency in the area which is of most use to them in the workplace. These candidates would probably not have been attracted by our original structure. Some of our publicity is specifically aimed at candidates such as these.

Profile with HMRC and HM Treasury

Our second main achievement was to become a supervisory body for the purposes of the Money Laundering Regulations 2007. As Jean mentioned last year, we were not on the original list of supervisory bodies issued by HM Treasury. However, supported by feedback from our members, we were included on the final list which clearly shows the high standing in which the Association is held. Our scheme became operational in December and over 200 members have already registered.

Profile within tax and related professions

We again held our annual luncheon and reception in order to reinforce our relationship with other professional bodies. We continue to work with them to identify areas in which we can co-operate for the benefit of our members. One example this year was a joint conference with the Institute of Legal Executives on owning property abroad.

Not for profit sector

We continue to make grants to support the not for profit sector and I hope that we can develop this further during 2008.

Professional Standards

The main effort this year has been updating the disciplinary process which is managed by the Taxation Disciplinary Board to ensure that it remains in line with best practice. I am pleased to report that the revised rules were agreed at our December Council meeting.

Our members

Past Presidents have said that the highlight of their year of office has been the admission ceremonies for new members and I am no exception. It is such a delight to be able to help so many new members celebrate their success with friends and family in the wonderful surroundings of the House of Lords. It was a particular pleasure that I could award honorary membership to Lord Howe last autumn in recognition of the support he has given us over the years. Council also awarded honorary membership to Lord Freeman to thank him for his efforts and we hope to find a suitable occasion at which to present the certificate during 2008.

We continue to hold our successful members' conferences and, in response to many requests from members, we have a new venue this year in the East Midlands.

Looking ahead

2008 will bring more change for the Association. Our existing ten year strategy was agreed in 1999 and refreshed in 2004. We had a full day Council meeting in November to review how we are doing against this strategy and to identify ideas for our future development. We agreed that we had already achieved many of the targets set out in our strategy, but with a little work to do on one or two in the next 12 months. I was very encouraged by the enthusiasm and range of ideas which came out of the strategy day. We are distilling the ideas and will report back on our proposals during 2008.

Thanks

I have had tremendous support from my colleagues on Council, in particular Annie Bailey, Deputy President, and David Stedman, Vice-President, and I thank them all. In addition thanks to the many volunteers who work on our committees.

Finally many thanks to our team at Upper Belgrave Street, headed by Andy Pickering. They provide superb support and ensure that the Association keeps running effectively and efficiently.

Annual report of the Council

The Council members (Trustees) present their annual report to the members on the affairs of the Association together with the audited financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2007.

Reference and administrative details

The Association of Taxation Technicians is a registered charity in England and Wales, number 803480, and a company limited by guarantee, number 02418331. Its registered office is 12 Upper Belgrave Street, London SW1X 8BB.

The names of all the Trustees, Secretary and professional advisers and their addresses are listed on page 10.

Structure, Governance and Management

The Association’s governing document is its Memorandum and Articles of Association.

A Governance statement which includes details of compliance, organisation, trustee elections and training, audit committee, internal controls and risk assessment is set out on pages 22 and 23.

Volunteers and staff

It is the Association’s policy to train, develop and motivate volunteers and staff, ensuring equal opportunities for all.

Members are encouraged to become involved in our activities and there are 45 unpaid volunteers on Council, committees, subcommittees and working parties. The Association is grateful not only for their generous input at meetings and other activities, but also to their firms who ultimately bear the financial cost. It is estimated that about 3,000 volunteer hours were provided during the year at meetings alone. The value to be placed on this resource cannot be readily calculated and is not therefore recognised in the Statement of Financial Activities.

Association staff are responsible for providing efficient and effective support to all committees. All staff are jointly employed by the Association and the Chartered Institute of Taxation and the average number of employees in the year was 54 (2006: 50).

The nature of the Association’s activities means that employees and volunteers do not encounter many hazards in the work place. However, safety receives constant management attention and a general policy statement on health and safety at work is included in the staff handbook. Risks are regularly assessed and include independent checks on electrical and mechanical equipment and water quality.

Officers and Council members

In accordance with Article 64, the Chartered Institute of Taxation is entitled to nominate up to four members of Council. Under Article 65, up to 20 members of Council shall be elected by the members. Article 70 allows the Chartered Institute of Taxation to appoint an ex-officio member of Council.

During 2007 the following changes took place:

- Nick Goulding BSc CTA (Fellow) FCA (Exo) left on 15 May
- Andrew Hubbard BMus PhD ATT CTA (Fellow) (Exo) joined on 15 May
- Les Beckett ATT CTA (Fellow) (E) left on 4 July

The other members listed on page 10 served throughout the year.

The Officers appointed to serve for a period of one year from the close of the Annual General Meeting held on 4 July 2007 were Richard Geldard as President, Annie Bailey as Deputy President and David Stedman as Vice-President.

The Officers appointed to serve for a period of one year from the close of the Annual General Meeting to be held on

2 July 2008 are Annie Bailey as President, David Stedman as Deputy President and Simon Braidley as Vice-President.

Andrew Meeson, Elected Member of Council, retires under Article 67 and offers himself for re-election.

Richard Geldard, Yvette Nunn, David Stedman and Phil Waller, Elected Members of Council, retire under Article 76 and offer themselves for re-election. Carol Wells who also retires under Article 76 does not offer herself for re-election.

Objectives, activities and achievements

The Association's objects are set out in its memorandum. They are to advance public education in, and promote the study of, administration and practice of taxation and the principles of economic and political science in relation to taxation. Its main aim is to achieve improvements in and the simplification of the administration and practice of taxation in the UK.

The Association had five key objectives for the year:

- Successful implementation of the first examinations to be held under the new examination structure, and increased awareness of the new examination syllabus.
- Further increase the profile of the Association with HMRC and the Treasury.
- Further increase the profile of the Association within the tax and related professions.
- Identify involvement with the not-for-profit sector in relation to tax matters.
- To keep under constant review the professional rules and practice guidelines for members and students.

Financial Review

The net outgoing resources before revaluations of investments for the year ended 31 December 2007 were £8,720 (net incoming for 2006 was £110,535) and are shown in the Statement of Financial Activities on page 26. Gains on revaluations of investment assets amounted to £18,772 (2006: £44,793). A review of the Association's financial position is given on pages 20 to 21.

During 2007 our investments increased in value by 3.03%. This compares favourably with the movement in the index used as a benchmark for our investments, which rose by 1.38%. The Association has not placed any social, environmental or ethical restrictions on its investment advisers.

Donations, legacies and other incoming resources

The Association is solely supported by subscriptions and fees from members, affiliates, students and the public.

Grant-making policy

The Association does not make donations to funds of political parties. Grants can be made only to organisations with common, parallel or related objectives and activities.

Reserves policy

The Council has assessed the risks involved in the activities of the Association and has agreed the following reserves policy:

- To retain a sufficient level of reserves in order to provide financial stability and the means for the development of the Association's principal activity. The sum required is equivalent to one year's budgeted income;
- To set aside designated sums, currently £557,000, to be used for future expenditure as described below, but to retain the power to reallocate these funds within unrestricted funds unless and until expended.

Unrestricted funds have been designated for the following purposes:

Disciplinary procedures

To cover the unpredictable future costs of investigation and disciplinary hearings. By their nature, the timing is uncertain but there are currently no cases where we expect to need to use the reserve.

New premises

To provide for the cost of relocating Head Office and back office accommodation on or before the expiry of the existing lease on 12 Upper Belgrave Street. Expenditure is possible in 2008 and expected during 2009 to meet the costs of moving to new premises.

Information technology

To fund expenditure on information technology and the use of the Internet to provide services to members and students. This is to cover the major upgrades to our IT systems and is likely to be used in the next five years.

New syllabus

To fund expenditure in 2008 on further promotion of the new examination structure.

Investment policy

The Association's powers of investment are set out in the Memorandum of Association which states that monies of the Association not immediately required for any of its objects may be invested.

The Council has assessed the risks involved in the activities of the Association and agreed the following investment policy:

- To take independent investment advice on all longer-term investments;
- To regularly review the value of funds the Association requires to be held in investment, short-term deposits and cash, to ensure that they are adequate to meet its obligations;
- To review regularly with its investment advisers the performance of longer-term investments; and
- To invest liquid assets in short-term low-risk investments.

Payment of suppliers

The Association is committed to paying suppliers promptly and aims to pay within 30 days of receiving a valid invoice, unless other specific arrangements apply.

Major plans for 2008

Council approved a strategy plan in 1999 for the ten years to 2009, which has been reviewed regularly over the past eight years. Council held a strategy day on 30 November 2007 to review the successes of this strategy and to develop a further plan to 2014. Council agreed that the ten objectives they set themselves in 1999 have to a large extent been achieved.

The main objectives for 2008 include:

Strategy

- To set a strategy plan to 2014

At the strategy day on 30 November Council discussed the many changes that have taken place in the tax profession over the past ten years and how the profession may change over the next five to ten years. Many ideas on how the Association should respond to the challenges ahead were put forward and during the first half of 2008 Council will develop a strategy to take the Association forward to 2014.

Premises

- Strategic aspects

The lease on Head Office comes to an end on 24 December 2009. The Association and the Institute are working together to ensure that suitable working facilities are available before the current lease expires. Because of the increasing need for more office space it is quite likely that the move to new premises will take place during 2008 and such a move will require human as well as financial resources to make the move successful.

Education

- To raise awareness of the new examination structure

The new examination structure appears to be successful. However, the advantage it brings to those in a narrow field of taxation has to be brought to their attention. Work in this area started in 2006 and will continue for 2008.

Technical

- To further increase the profile of the Association within HMRC and the Treasury
- To raise the profile of the Association within the tax and related professions

In working more closely with the tax authorities, the Association will be seeking to improve the practical application of tax legislation for the benefit of the general public. By working with related professions, our voice on tax issues will have a greater impact on the tax authorities.

Standards

- To keep under constant review the professional rules and practice guidelines for members and students

The professionalism and integrity of members and students is vital if the general public is to have confidence in the advice given by those governed by the Association. It is therefore essential that the rules and guidance provided are appropriate, particularly if regulation of the tax profession is introduced.

Andrew Meeson who joined Council on 4 July 2007.

Heather Price receiving the Association Medal for the best overall performance at the May 2007 sitting of the examination.

Money Laundering Regulations 2007

- The successful implementation of the Association's Money Laundering Scheme

The Money Laundering Regulations 2007 lists the Association as a supervisory authority for its members in practice. The Scheme was introduced in December 2007 and practicing members have been registering since that date. During 2008 the Association will develop its monitoring and supervisory processes to ensure that registered members fulfil their obligations under the Regulations.

Statement as to Disclosure of Information to the Auditor

The directors who were in office on the date of approval of these financial statements have confirmed, as far as they are aware, that there is no relevant audit information of which the auditor is unaware. Each of the directors has confirmed that they have taken all the steps that they ought to have taken as directors in order to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that it has been communicated to the auditor.

Auditor

The Council having been notified of the cessation of the partnership known as Baker Tilly resolved that Baker Tilly UK Audit LLP be appointed as successor with effect from April 2007. Baker Tilly UK Audit LLP was appointed as auditor at the last Annual General Meeting and has expressed its willingness to continue in office. A resolution proposing the reappointment of Baker Tilly UK Audit LLP as auditor of the Association will be put to the Annual General Meeting on 2 July 2008.

Annual General Meeting

A separate notice on page 40 of this report explains the business to be considered at the Annual General Meeting on 2 July 2008.

Enforcement of Standards

In 2001 the Institute and the Association established the Taxation Disciplinary Board as an independent body to run the Taxation Disciplinary Scheme, which handles complaints about alleged breaches of professional rules of conduct by members and students of the two bodies. One of the objectives of the Scheme is to ensure a consistent approach to handling disciplinary matters and to comply with the Human Rights Act 1998, which requires disciplinary hearings to be conducted by an impartial and independent tribunal.

Overall responsibility for the Scheme rests with the Directors of the Board. The Chairman of the Board, Dr Vicki Harris, is a joint appointee of both bodies. The other two Directors, John Clark and Peter Gravestock, are individual appointments of the two participating bodies. The committees and tribunals appointed by the Board comprise lay persons including lawyers (who are not tax professionals) and professional members who have no current involvement with the standards setting of the two bodies. Early in 2007 the Board appointed its first part-time Executive Director, Neville Nagler, who has day to day responsibility for the smooth running of the Scheme.

During 2007 the Board commissioned a firm of solicitors to undertake an extensive review of the Scheme to ensure that it continued to accord with best regulatory practice and complied with recent court judgments. The Board was advised that, rather than amend the existing Scheme piecemeal, it would be better to create an entirely new Scheme and Regulations. While retaining many of the current structures and procedures, this would provide a clearer and more comprehensive framework for the disciplinary processes. The new Scheme should set out principles, jurisdiction and powers for the Board, whilst all the procedural details would be contained in the Regulations. On this basis the new Scheme was approved by the Association in December 2007 and by the Institute on 8 January 2008, coming into effect the following day.

Under the new Scheme, the Board deals with complaints alleging breaches of professional standards and guidance, the provision of inadequate professional service, and conduct unbefitting a professional person. The initial handling of complaints remains a function of Board staff, who may reject a complaint if it appears frivolous, vexatious, more than a year old or outside the jurisdiction of the Scheme, subject to a right of appeal to an independent assessor. If the complaint involves a breach of the participants' administrative rules, the Board may impose a limited fixed penalty fine, but a member who objects is entitled to request a full hearing by a Disciplinary Tribunal.

Most complaints will go to an Investigation Committee to consider whether there is a prima facie case to answer. If the Committee decides that a prima facie case has not been made out or that the case should go no further, the complainant may appeal to an assessor, who may reject the appeal or require a new Investigation Committee to reconsider it. All other cases will be referred to a Disciplinary Tribunal. The Tribunal is composed of three members who include a legally-qualified chairman, a lay member and a professional member. The Tribunal hears the evidence and listens to any witnesses. If the Tribunal finds the case against the member proven, it may impose a relevant sanction. It will normally award costs against a defendant against whom it has made a finding and order that its finding be published. In cases of inadequate professional service the Tribunal may award compensation, up to a maximum of £5,000. Following a finding by a Disciplinary Tribunal, both the defendant and the Board may seek to appeal. If the appeal meets the specified criteria, the case will go to an Appeal Tribunal, which has a similar composition to a Disciplinary Tribunal.

The new Scheme provides for the fair and independent investigation of every complaint referred to the Board and fair treatment for any member against whom a complaint is made. The number of disciplinary cases involving members of the two bodies is relatively small, and members who conduct themselves in a professional manner are unlikely to face disciplinary proceedings. However, the disciplinary procedures exist to protect the public and in so doing they also protect members of the participating bodies. By enhancing the standing and reputation of the tax profession, they can only be beneficial to all their members.

Member and Student Services Committee

Introduction

I became Chairman of this Committee in July 2007 and I would like to thank my predecessor Annie Bailey for her excellent work in the previous year.

Following the review of the action plan undertaken in 2006 the Committee has continued to focus on the issues raised, these being: communicating with members and students, improving the Association website and marketing the new examination syllabus and Certificates of Competency.

The above areas of focus are all ongoing projects and in order to comply with the Charities Act 2006 the Association, and thereby its committees, have to show that its work provides an identifiable benefit to the public or a section of the public.

I believe the Committee, through the tireless work of its volunteer members, has met these requirements as evidenced below.

Public Benefit

With the new examination syllabus the Association is aiming to educate the public and taxation practitioners in the administration and practice of taxation in the UK.

Details of the successful first sitting of the new syllabus in May of this year are contained in more detail in the Examination Committee report. However, a great deal of credit for the public awareness of the new syllabus which resulted in record numbers sitting the examinations can be attributed to the New Examination Syllabus Working Party, chaired by Stuart McKinnon. I would like to thank Stuart and his team for all their efforts. This is an ongoing project and the Working Party is continuing to promote the examinations into new market areas previously seen to be outside the Association's traditional audience, such as those individuals dealing with payroll services.

Communicating with Members and Students

I would also like to thank Louise Duffy who successfully chaired the Working Party established to look at ways of improving the means by which the Association communicates with its students and members. A review of the Student Newsletter has taken place with the vast majority of students preferring to receive this communication electronically. Karen Bullen, a long time contributor to the newsletter sadly had to step down from her role during the year and on behalf of the Committee, students and members I thank her for her valued contribution over the years.

The Working Party also looked at the role of Tax Adviser and the website as a means of communicating with members.

The website is continually in the process of being improved and updated, with a separate Working Party devoting much time and energy to the process.

Members' Benefits

Sue Fraser, the Assistant Secretary of the Association and Secretary to this Committee, undertook a review of the benefits of membership. Following her excellent work the Committee was able to re-define the old benefits of membership into three new categories to which each member enjoys access. The new categories are Entitlement, Benefits and Services, which more accurately fit within the Charity Commission targets.

Briefly, Entitlement includes the use of the ATT designatory letters; Benefits are the provision of publications and other relevant material; Services include the opportunity to register with the Association as a Supervisory Authority under the 2007 Money Laundering Regulations, the opportunity to attend Branch meetings and Association conferences and enrol in the Registration Scheme for self-employed members.

Conferences

The Members' Conferences continue to be very successful and relevant according to the feedback received from delegates. As usual the conferences were held at eight different locations around the country during March, April and May. I would like to thank our conference speakers Marion Hodgkiss, Andrew Meeson, Michael Tuhme and Diane Polson for their excellent contributions. In 2008 we will have a new venue in the East Midlands being used for the first time.

The second joint conference with the Institute of Legal Executives took place and Mike Steed spoke on the taxation implications of buying property abroad. Plans are afoot to continue our joint venture conferences with other professional bodies.

For the benefit of students intending to sit our examinations the Association continues to run two residential weekend training conferences. These run in the Spring and Autumn, prior to the examination sittings. These not only provide high quality tuition but give delegates the opportunity to meet other students and members of the Association Council and committees who are in attendance.

Admission Ceremonies and Prizewinners' lunch

The Admission Ceremonies traditionally held at the House of Lords are evermore popular with the new members and their guests. Looking forward to 2008 the Committee, with Council's approval, agreed to re-introduce the Prizewinners lunch. This reflects the need to accommodate as many new members as possible at our Admission Ceremonies whilst recognising the excellent achievement of the prizewinners.

Finally, I have to thank all those involved with the Committee and its Working Parties who contributed so much time and energy to the cause. A special thank you again to Sue Fraser for all her assistance during the year which ensured the smooth running of the Committee.

Examination Committee

Introduction

This is my first report as Chairman of the Examination Committee having succeeded Annie Bailey in July 2007. Annie has made an enormous contribution in the role of Chairman, being one of the key players in shaping the current examination structure. To say she will be a hard act to follow is a bit of an understatement! Her experience will not be lost as she is remaining on the committee but our thanks go to Annie for her outstanding work over many years.

New examination structure

It was a significant year to be taking over as Chairman of the Examination Committee as we had the first two sittings of the examinations under the new structure. We now have seven stand alone papers with the option of applying for individual certificates of competency or applying for membership following success in the three compulsory and one optional paper.

Both the May and November sittings ran very smoothly with excellent feedback being received from students, employers and the tutorial bodies. The examinations will evolve over time but it is pleasing to see that we are on the right course to meet the needs of the modern day tax practitioner.

Examination numbers

There had been a concern that due to the record numbers of students sitting the November 2006 examinations (the last under the traditional structure) the numbers might suffer particularly in May 2007. We need not have worried. Although it is difficult to make direct comparisons due to the option to sit as many or as few papers as students wish at single sittings, the numbers have held up very well and we had record numbers registering for individual papers in November.

Principles of Law and Accounting

Under the new structure, law and accounting are incorporated into the individual papers rather than being examined separately. However, for those students who had passed the taxation papers under the old structure, November 2007 saw the last opportunity to sit the law and accounting papers under the transitional arrangements. Although the May result in the Principle of Law paper was very disappointing, it is certainly not true of November when an outstanding result was achieved. I am pleased to congratulate all of those who passed and I hope that they will take the opportunity to become members of the Association; a just reward for their hard work and determination.

For the few who unfortunately did not reach the required standard, this is not the end of the road. The passes in the taxation papers will give exemptions under the new structure. I would urge the individuals concerned not to waste their efforts to date but to seek qualification for membership by passing the remaining papers required.

papers and individual certificates of competency, there is the increased risk of fraud. We therefore introduced a new requirement for candidate identification. All candidates must now produce photo identification as well as their candidate letter for each paper they wish to sit and have this available throughout the examination. This worked exceptionally well with very few problems being encountered. We are grateful for everyone's cooperation on this matter.

Meeting of examiners

Each year, we have a meeting of the examiners and examination teams in London. Due to the increase in the number of papers, we now have a significant number of examiners coming from all parts of the country. I was extremely impressed by the enthusiasm of the teams and I would like to give personal thanks to each and every one of them for their professionalism in sticking to very tight deadlines for the production of the papers and returning marked scripts. A special thanks also has to go to our Chief Examiner, Sue Short, whose boundless energy and enthusiasm keeps everyone in check and ensures balanced and fair papers.

Final thanks

A final thanks has to go to the Education Department. The logistical problems of dealing with seven individual papers with examiners spread all over the country should not be underestimated. As always, the examination results appeared on time but this was not without a great deal of effort. I am very grateful to Roz Baxter and her team who have given me great support.

Stuart McKinnon, Chairman

It is pleasing to see that we are on the right course to meet the needs of the modern day tax practitioner.

2007 Prizes and Medals

Prizes and medals were awarded as follows:

| | May | November |
|---|----------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| Association Medal (best overall performance) | Heather Lea Price | Laura Anne Rowbottom |
| Iverson Medal (Personal Taxation paper) | Philippa Clare Rolph | Laura Anne Rowbottom |
| Jennings Medal (Business Taxation & Accounting Principles paper) | Christopher Martin Brookes | Timothy Jackson |
| Stary Medal (Business Taxation: Higher Skills paper) | Naveen Bhatia | Timothy Jackson |
| Kimmer Medal (IHT, Trusts & Estates paper) | David Benjamin Thackray | Andrew James Knott |
| Gravestock Medal (VAT paper) | Andrew Edward Hopkins | Alexander Stephen Charles Nigel Jones |
| Collingwood Medal (Business Compliance paper) | Emma Mackinnon | Sarah Elisabeth Hoskin |
| Johnson Medal (Practice Administration & Ethics paper) | Christopher Martin Brookes | Laura Anne Rowbottom |
| LexisNexis Prize (highest total marks when taking all four papers at one sitting) | Christopher Martin Brookes | Kelly Louise Andrews |

It is also a pleasure to announce that, in addition to the exceptional papers produced by the prize winners, an award of the President's Medal was made for the May examination sitting to Alexandra Frances Fern Haigh and for the November examination sitting to Alison Jane Edwards. This is a discretionary award to an outstanding candidate who because of the criteria for the above prizes would not otherwise be eligible for a prize.

Standards Committee

I became the chairman of the joint Association and Institute Standards Committee in May 2007. My predecessor Carol Wells guided the committee through two years of high activity brought on by the many changes occurring in the profession. I would like to thank Carol for all her considered input and commitment during this time. The pace of change continues through new government and European initiatives, which has meant that there has been no respite for Standards.

The role of the joint Standards Committee is to set the professional standards to be upheld by members. In doing so the Committee aims to establish standards which not only offer reassurance and protection to the public but also provide clear and helpful guidelines by which members should operate their practices. Where we have felt it necessary or beneficial we have provided explanatory guidance notes to supplement the professional standard rules so that all users might have a clear understanding of the rules.

The Money Laundering Regulations 2007 (MLR 2007) provided the main project for the Committee in 2007. A consultation exercise confirmed that members wanted the Association and Institute to apply to be a supervisory authority for the purposes of monitoring compliance with the MLR 2007. This involved discussions with the Treasury, the Charity Commission, other tax and accounting bodies and HM Revenue and Customs. We are delighted to say that we were accepted as a supervisory authority and at the time of writing we have two hundred and fifty-nine firms and members registered for compliance monitoring with the Association which is considerably in excess of our estimate when planning the scheme.

As a supervisory authority we attend the Supervisors' Forum, the Accountancy Sector Affinity Group and the Regulators and Stakeholders Forums of the Serious Organised Crime Agency. These meetings provide a useful opportunity for the Association to discuss issues with other supervisors in the tax and accounting sector.

The MLR 2007 meant that the anti-money laundering guidance we provided to members had to be updated. In keeping with most of the tax and accounting bodies and in line with Treasury wishes Standards Committee recommended that the Association and Institute adopted the Combined Committee of Accounting Bodies guidance for use by members. However we also recognised the need for tax sector specific guidance. The Institute and Association took the lead in developing such guidance. It was issued in consultation form in December 2007 with assistance from ICAEW, ACCA, CIMA and HMRC as an appendix to the CCAB guidance. In due course we will apply for Treasury approval for the guidance.

...not only offer reassurance and protection to the public but also provide clear and helpful guidelines.

We have also worked closely with our fellow professional bodies in taxation and accountancy on updating the advice on engagement letters for Tax Practitioners and Professional Conduct in Relation to Taxation. Both exercises have involved a major rewrite and we are sure the final products to be issued in 2008 will prove to be of great benefit to tax practitioners. In working collectively with other tax and accounting bodies we can set a consistent approach to ethical and professional matters which helps members, in particular those who are members of more than one body. It is also easier for the public to ascertain the standard expected of a tax professional.

In addition to the above, Standards Committee has considered a wide range of issues including the Continuing Professional Development scheme, members and probate work and kept the Professional Rules and Practice Guidelines under regular review and incorporated changes where necessary. The question of working as tax intermediaries has been discussed following up on initiatives originating from the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development and on a more local basis through discussions with HM Revenue and Customs.

In 2008 in addition to the ongoing projects noted above the Committee will turn its attention to a revised issue of Professional Rules and Practice Guidelines and increased practice assurance monitoring.

In order to keep members abreast of developments we have held a half-day Anti-money Laundering Seminar with another scheduled in 2008. In view of the ever increasing workload, we welcomed a new staff member Charlotte Ali as our second Standards Officer and Ruth Cook as a new volunteer member of the Committee. I would like to thank all members of the Committee for their valuable contributions to our work on the main Committee and on the ever growing number of sub-committees and working parties.

I will be retiring as Chairman of Standards in 2008 and will be passing on the mantle to Vice-Chairman Rosalind Upton. Ros has already shown an enthusiastic flare and I am sure she will be an excellent Chairman to take forward the various ongoing initiatives on behalf of the Committee.

Finally I must personally thank Heather Brehcist and Jonathan Crump whose hard work, experience and support are second to none, making my Chairman's role easier to bear.

Technical Committee

The primary objective of the Technical Committee is to provide a structure through which the general problems with tax compliance and administration faced on a day to day basis by ATT members can be considered and appropriate action taken. The Committee does this in three ways:

- By preparing and submitting responses to HMRC consultation documents on subjects relevant to the work of members
- By Committee members representing the Association on various HMRC consultation groups and working parties
- By providing a body through which members can voice their concerns about the workings of the tax system.

The Committee provides a vehicle through which concerns can be raised about practical problems in dealing with tax compliance and administration with HMRC to work towards a smoother running tax system for the benefit of both members and the general public.

Responses to HMRC Consultation

The members of the Committee are all volunteers and the Association does not have the resources to deal with responses to all the numerous consultation documents and papers issued by HMRC. We therefore try and identify those which we feel will be of most relevance to our members and cover the range of areas of tax in which different members may work.

During 2007 we continued our work with the review of HMRC Powers and responded to the consultation on 'Modernising Powers, Deterrents and Safeguards: Payments, Repayments and Debt: The Developing Programme of Work'. This dealt with tax payment and debt collection proposals including direct attachment of taxpayers' assets to satisfy debt, a subject that had received extensive press coverage. I would like to express my thanks to John Kimmer for his considerable work on this paper. The consultation on Powers has continued into 2008 and we remain involved.

The Finance Act 2006 introduced major changes to the inheritance tax treatment of trusts, vastly increasing the number of inheritance tax returns that would need to be made from 6 April 2008. We were therefore pleased to be able to respond to the proposals on 'Reducing Reporting for lifetime transfers and settlements after the Finance Act 2006' and my thanks to Gillian McClenahan and John Kimmer for their work on this document.

VAT administration has been an area of much consultation in 2007 and we responded to papers on Amendments to VAT invoicing rules, the Voluntary Disclosure of Errors on Indirect tax returns and the VAT Simplification paper issued after the Pre-Budget Report. Here I would like to thank Stephen Taylor and Jean Jesty for their work. Stephen joined the Committee during the year as our new representative on the Joint VAT Consultative Committee and has been kept very busy as a result.

Meeting with HMRC

One of the Association's objectives for 2007 was to further increase the profile of the Association with HMRC and HM Treasury. One way in which this objective has been achieved is to note the increasing number of invitations we receive to attend meetings, workshops and join working parties. During 2007 Paul Hill, our representative on the Direct Tax (formerly Operations) Consultative Committee joined the newly formed Compliance Reform Forum, and John Kimmer became involved with the Tax Agents and Advisers Steering Group, formed by Dave Hartnett to enable HMRC to meet with representatives of the major professional bodies to look at improving service and increase efficiency in the running of the tax system.

Thank you

In thanking Committee members for their work and support throughout the year, I would like particularly to express the grateful thanks of the Association to John Kimmer who stepped down from the Committee on 31 December 2007. John was not only a founder member of the Committee, created following a request during his time as Association President for members to let him have their comments on their experiences after Self Assessment was introduced in 1997, but also the Association's representative on the National Working Together Steering Group from its inception, and numerous other groups and committees formed out of this. The time he has given to the work of the Technical Committee is immeasurable and it has taken more than one person to replace him.

I am pleased to report that Andrew Meeson is taking over from John as our representative on the Tax Agents and Adviser's Steering Group and Jean Jesty has taken on John's role in Working Together. Jean had already been involved on the Working Together e-comms group and has spent considerable time on matters relating to online filing, and Andrew also represents the Association on the Complex Personal Tax Return Group.

I am also pleased that we have increased the membership of the Committee to expand our VAT expertise and have representation for developments in environmental taxation as it becomes of increasing relevance.

Finally, I would like to thank Richard Geldard who chaired the Committee until July 2007 for his support and Sue Fraser, the secretary to the Committee who so efficiently keeps us all in order, never failing to make sure we meet deadlines and to find people to attend meetings, however short the notice.

Treasurer's Report

I am happy to report that the Association has had another encouraging year financially and although our overall surplus is down on 2006, our underlying financial position remains healthy.

Student registrations have continued to rise following the trend in earlier years and this has filtered through to the numbers of examination candidates. Our examination entries were broadly in line with our aspirations bearing in mind that 2007 was the first year of our new modular examination system. This is explained more fully elsewhere in our report. In addition the value of our investments continued to rise.

The accounts have been prepared using SORP 2005.

Investments

Our investments increased in value by £18,772 during the year and bearing in mind the turmoil in the financial markets, I believe that this is a satisfactory result. As members will be aware, the investments are held primarily to provide funds to cover any necessary expenditure in 2009 when the lease on 12 Upper Belgrave Street expires. The working party set up jointly with the Institute in 2006 to consider the options available to us continues with its work. The group has now formally instructed a team of advisers to help identify both potential properties and also our requirements within new premises. Our investment advisers, Deloitte, continue to monitor our portfolio in view of our requirements in 2009.

Review of results

The net outgoing resources before other gains and losses for 2007 were £8,720 (2006: £110,535 surplus). However, the result for 2007 includes two items of expenditure that we provided for in reserves last year, one being the costs of the provision of the Income Tax Law Rewrite (£47,000) and the other for legal fees in connection with registration for the new Money Laundering procedures (£25,000). We have made a further transfer of £17,000 in respect of costs relating to the implementation of the new examination system.

Income

Our membership numbers continued to increase and this has led to another increase in our subscription income. Our other major source of income, examination fees, has shown another welcome increase. We were pleased with the number of candidates sitting the examinations under the new structure, the numbers being in line with our expectations. Indications are that student registrations and examination candidate numbers are continuing on an upward trend and we look forward to continued successful implementation of the new examination structure.

Expenditure

The bulk of our expenditure is paid to the Chartered Institute of Taxation for the provision of services at 12 Upper Belgrave Street.

Total grants for the year were £7,500. Council continues to review applications made by charitable bodies that we feel able to support within our aims and objectives.

Richard Geldard welcoming Richard Dyson, ICAEW President, to the Annual Lunch held in Stationers' Hall in September 2007.

New member, Shev Bains, with his guests at the Admission Ceremony held in the House of Lords in November 2007.

The Association continues to provide members with a range of benefits including Tolley's Tax Guide, Tax Adviser – a monthly journal with specific pages devoted to matters of interest to Association members, an annotated copy of the Finance Act, a mouse mat and a copy of Hardman's tax tables. We intend to continue to provide these publications in 2008. In addition, for 2007, we provided members with an annotated copy of the Income Tax Act 2007 which we hope was of use. We will continue to monitor publications with a view to providing them to the membership as part of their annual subscription.

Taxation Disciplinary Board

The Taxation Disciplinary Board Limited continues to administer the Taxation

Disciplinary Scheme. Expenditure of £54,500 (2006: £28,183) incurred on behalf of the Taxation Disciplinary Board Limited is included under Membership Services in these financial statements. This cost has increased over recent years and this trend is likely to continue. We have a designated reserve to provide some cover in case we have particularly difficult cases. In addition, the Taxation Disciplinary Board Limited has recruited an Executive Director to ensure its full independence from the Association and the Institute. The funding of this post has been borne by our two bodies. We must recognise that maintaining an effective disciplinary scheme, and bearing the related costs, is part of being a well-run professional body.

Increased Regulation

I am pleased to announce that we have been accredited as a regulatory body under the Money Laundering Regulations 2007 that came into force this year.

Thank you

I would like to thank Jean Jesty, Richard Geldard, and Ralph Pettengell who served on the Finance Advisory Group during the year for their help, and Andy Pickering for his constant support and advice. I also wish to express my thanks to Carol Wells, who stepped down from the group this year, for her past help during my period as Treasurer. Finally particular thanks must go to Sandra Stone-Waugh, our Financial Controller, for her continued hard work and dedication. She always ensures that I have appropriate information at the right time which makes the role of Treasurer so much easier.

Association Governance

Compliance statement

The Association is committed to business integrity and high ethical values in all its activities and the Council has overall responsibility for the Association's internal controls. The Council seeks to observe the principles set out in the Combined Code of the Financial Reporting Council (the Code) in so far as these are consistent with the Association's charitable status. In managing the Association's affairs the Council also takes into account the Code of Governance published for the Voluntary and Community Sector by the National Governance Hub.

Council

The Council comprises 20 trustees who provide a wide range of skills and experience. The roles of the President, Deputy President, Vice-President and Secretary are separate and clearly defined. The Council considers that its non-Council Committee members are independent. The majority are tax advisers working in the accountancy and legal professions. They fulfil both executive and non-executive roles such that no individual or small group of individuals can dominate Council decisions.

The Council met five times during the year at which there were formal agendas of matters specifically reserved to it for decision. Council papers, including an agenda, Council and Committee minutes and briefing papers, are sent to Council members in advance of each meeting. Council members achieved an overall attendance rate of 79% (2006 83%) at Council meetings. Council and Committee members are required to make declarations of interest at meetings whenever appropriate in compliance with the Regulations. Members of Council have access to the advice and services of Association staff and may take independent professional advice at the expense of the Association. There are a number of Standing Committees of Council to which implementation of the Association's strategy has been delegated. Standing Committees adopt the same approach to the preparation and distribution of papers for meetings. Membership of the Committees is set out on pages 22 and 23.

Election to Council

Election of up to 20 members of Council is by the Members of the Association at the Annual General Meeting. Council is responsible for processing nominations under Article 77 (Nominations for election to Council). Council is responsible for the election of the honorary officers.

New Council Members, who must also be Members of the Association, are selected for what they can contribute to the Association and they must sign a declaration that they are not disqualified from acting as a Trustee as detailed in Section 72 (1) of the Charities Act 1993. Trustee training is provided each year for new and existing Trustees and a Trustees Handbook has been issued to all Trustees.

Audit Committee

The Audit Committee, a joint committee of the Association and the Institute, is composed of members of the Association and Institute. Members of the Committee receive no remuneration for their services, act independently of the Council, have both accountancy and taxation qualifications and recent and relevant experience. The Committee acts as a catalyst in relation to matters that affect the Association's financial controls, reporting requirements and risk management. In this role it reviews: financial control policies and their practical implementation; the changes in the external environment and the procedures used to respond to them; and the management of any prospective risk. It has primary responsibility for making a recommendation to Council on the appointment and removal of the external auditor. It met three times during the year, and requests and receives reports from management and from the external auditor on the audit. It meets privately with the auditor, and its Chairman or his deputy attends the external audit scope and audit closure meetings. It considers annually a wide range of audit-related subjects. It regularly reviews its terms of reference and its own effectiveness. It reports directly to the Council and comments on perceived weaknesses. No major weaknesses in internal control systems have been identified.

Council member remuneration

Council members receive no remuneration for their services as trustees. Their expenses incurred on Association business are reimbursed.

Internal controls

The respective responsibilities of the Council and auditors in connection with the financial statements are explained on pages 24 and 25. The Council's statement on going concern is set out below. There were no non-audit services provided by the auditors during the year.

The Council is responsible for the Association's system of internal control and for taking such steps as are reasonably open to it to safeguard the assets of the Association and to prevent and detect fraud and other irregularities. The Code refers to internal controls in the widest sense, including operational and compliance controls and risk management as well as internal financial controls.

Responsibility for managing the business of the Association rests, ultimately, with Council. However management of the day-to-day activity is delegated to the Secretary and the Officers. Certain powers of the Council are delegated to Committees and to the Secretary who are also entrusted with carrying out appropriate aspects of the Association's strategy.

Key financial and operational measures are reported on a three-monthly basis and are measured against both budget and interim forecasts that have been approved and reviewed by the Council. The Council has established a clear organisational structure with defined authority levels.

The Council acknowledges that it is responsible for the Association's system of internal control and for reviewing its effectiveness. As with all such systems, internal control is designed to manage rather than eliminate the risk of failure to achieve strategic objectives and can only provide reasonable and not absolute assurance against material misstatement or loss.

The Council reviews the effectiveness of the Association's system of internal control on a regular basis by monitoring the reports from external auditors, the Audit Committee and other Committees.

The Council keeps under review the need for internal audit at the Association. The Council's current view is that a separate function is not required given the size and nature of the Association, the close management supervision exercised and the increased attention paid to the adequacy of financial and operational controls.

Risk management

Council has delegated the responsibility for the maintenance of the Association's Risk Register to the Standing Committees. A review was carried out during the year with the objectives of increasing stakeholders' confidence in the integrity of the Association, strengthening the ongoing process of risk assessment of uncertainty throughout the Association, and providing a valuable management tool or framework for mitigating risks which might otherwise prevent the Association from achieving its charitable objectives.

The development and maintenance of the Association's Risk Register is a continuing process of refinement and integration into the management process.

Going concern

The Council has reviewed the Association's budget for 2008 and the timing of expenditure on the strategy to 2009 and is satisfied that it is appropriate to prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis.

Statement of Directors' Responsibilities

The directors, who are members of Council and also the trustees of the Association, are responsible for preparing the annual report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law the directors have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law). The financial statements are required by law to give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the Association and of the profit or loss of the Association for that period. In preparing those financial statements, the directors are required to:

- a) select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- b) make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- c) prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the Association will continue in operation.

The directors are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the Association and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the requirements of the Companies Act 1985. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Association and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The directors acknowledge their responsibility for the maintenance and integrity of the corporate and financial information on the Association's website. Legislation in the UK governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

Independent Auditor's report

To the Members of the Association of Taxation Technicians

We have audited the financial statements on pages 26 to 35.

This report is made solely to the Association's members, as a body, in accordance with section 235 of the Companies Act 1985. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the Association's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Association and the Association's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and the auditor

The responsibilities of the trustees (who are also the directors of The Association of Taxation Technicians for the purposes of company law) for preparing the annual report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice) are set out in the Statement of Directors' Responsibilities.

Our responsibility is to audit the financial statements in accordance with relevant legal and regulatory requirements and International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland).

We report to you our opinion as to whether the financial statements give a true and fair view and are properly prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 1985. We also report to you whether in our opinion the annual report is consistent with the financial statements.

In addition we report to you if, in our opinion, the Association has not kept proper accounting records, if we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit, or if information specified by law regarding trustees' remuneration and other transactions is not disclosed.

We read other information contained in the annual report, and consider whether it is consistent with the audited financial statements. This other information comprises only the President's Statement, the Annual Report of the Council, the Statement of Council and Advisers, the Statement of Enforcement of Standards, Reports from the Member and Student Services Committee, Examination Committee, Standards Committee and Technical Committee, the Treasurer's Report and the Association's Governance Statement. We consider the implications for our report if we become aware of any apparent misstatements or material inconsistencies with the financial statements. Our responsibilities do not extend to any other information.

Basis of audit opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland) issued by the Auditing Practices Board. An audit includes examination, on a test basis, of evidence relevant to the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. It also includes an assessment of the significant estimates and judgments made by the trustees in the preparation of the financial statements, and of whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the Association's circumstances, consistently applied and adequately disclosed.

We planned and performed our audit so as to obtain all information and explanations which we considered necessary in order to provide us with sufficient evidence to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or other irregularity or error. In forming our opinion we also evaluated the overall adequacy of the presentation of information in the financial statements.

In our opinion

- the financial statements give a true and fair view, in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice, of the state of the Association's affairs as at 31 December 2007 and of its incoming resources and application of resources, including its income and expenditure, for the year then ended and have been properly prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 1985.
- the information given in the Annual Report of the Council is consistent with the financial statements.

Notes to the Financial Statements

for the year ended 31 December 2007

1. Accounting Policies

Basis of accounting

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention as modified by the revaluation of fixed assets investments and in accordance with applicable accounting standards.

The provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities – Statement of Recommended Practice 2005 and the Charities Act 1993 have been adopted in these financial statements. The Chartered Institute of Taxation is a connected charity as defined in the SORP, but the Association is not subordinate to it.

a) Depreciation

Depreciation is calculated to write off the cost of fixed assets over their estimated useful lives on a straight line basis as follows:

Computer equipment – 25%

b) Incoming resources

Income recognition: Income is included in the statement on a receivable basis except for student registration fees which are deferred and credited to income over the registration period. The registration period is five years.

c) Donated services and facilities

The income value placed on donated facilities is the estimated price that would be paid on the open market for that facility.

d) Apportionment of incoming resources

Incoming resources from charitable activities are payments for goods and services provided for the benefit of members and students. This income is allocated to member services and student services respectively.

Activities for generating funds are payments for goods and services provided for the purpose of generating funds for use in charitable activities.

e) Resources expended

Charitable expenditure consists of all expenditure directly related to charitable objectives. Charitable expenditure includes the salary costs of staff providing services to members, the salary costs of staff providing services to students and the salary costs of staff providing services in relation to publicity or promotional events attended by members and the public.

Governance costs include the cost of governance arrangements in relation to the general running of the Association and includes a proportion of the salary costs of the management board. Accommodation costs are allocated to charitable costs and governance costs based on the office space occupied by staff involved in delivering services and staff involved in the general running of the Association.

Accommodation costs have been allocated between charitable activities and governance activities at 92% and 8% respectively. Allocation between individual charitable activities is in line with direct costs.

Office service costs included in the Service Charge from the Chartered Institute of Taxation have been allocated between individual charitable activities in line with direct costs.

Other office service costs paid directly by the Association have been allocated between charitable activities in line with direct costs.

Salary costs have been allocated based on the costs of employees working within the charitable activity. For support staff, costs have been allocated in line with direct costs.

f) Costs of generating funds

Cost of generating funds are the costs associated with generating investment income and includes the cost for managing investments.

g) Grants

The general policy is that multi-year grants are conditional on an annual review and the Association maintains the discretion to terminate the grant.

h) Valuation of donated and volunteered services

The Association receives assistance in the form of donated services from volunteers who are Council and Committee members. The value of their contribution is excluded from the Statement of Financial Activities as the value of their contribution is not quantifiable in financial terms.

i) Investments

Investments held as fixed assets are valued at mid-market value at the balance sheet date except for Glanmore Property Fund and Open Ended Investment Companies which have been valued at their net asset value at the balance sheet date. The gain or loss on investments is taken to the Statement of Financial Activities.

j) Stock

Stock is valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

k) Funds structure

Designated Funds: Designated Funds are unrestricted funds earmarked by Council for particular purposes.

l) Pension costs

Members of staff are eligible to join the Association's defined contribution scheme after a qualifying period of service. The scheme provides individual pension plans which are managed by independent pension providers.

m) Treatment of irrecoverable VAT

Irrecoverable VAT is attributed to revenue and capital expenditure as appropriate.

2f. Council expenses

The Association maintained liability insurance throughout the year to pay on behalf of the Association, its Council, committee members and staff, any claims for wrongful acts arising out of the conduct of the Association's business or committed in their capacity as officers. The premium payable by the Association was £706 per annum.

Travel expenses are reimbursed in respect of expenditure incurred on the Association's business. In the year, 19 directors claimed reimbursement for travelling expenses totalling £30,225 (2006: 18 claimed £25,315). Payments totalling £3,512 (2006: £4,171) were made to two directors for services as an examiner and conference speaker.

2g. Grants payable in furtherance of the charity's objects

This year the Association paid grants of £7,500 and the total value of cancelled grants was £3,000 (2006: £10,500). Tax Volunteers was the only recipient of a grant from the Association in 2007. The aims of Tax Volunteers include the provision of tax advice to the public and engaging in taxation research. This coincides with the objectives of the Association to provide opportunities for the acquisition and dissemination of useful information concerning tax and promoting technical competence of persons engaged with tax work.

11. The Chartered Institute of Taxation

The Institute is a connected charity in that it has common, parallel or related objects and activities and unity of administration with the Association. All employees are jointly employed by the Association and the Institute. Labour, operating and overhead costs borne by the Institute on behalf of the Association are charged to the Association on a quarterly basis using a simple and equitable formula agreed by both parties. The formula for 2007 to 2009 was agreed in 2006. The total service charge for the year of £592,000 (2006: £556,000) is shown in 2(d) to the financial statements. The amount due to the Institute at the balance sheet date was £239,598 (2006: £99,910).

12. The Taxation Disciplinary Board

The Association and the Institute have a joint arrangement with the Taxation Disciplinary Board, a company limited by guarantee managed by an independent board of directors. Neither the Association nor the Institute exercise a significant influence over the operating and financial policy of the Company whose object is to administer the Taxation Disciplinary Scheme for the Institute and the Association exclusively.
